

HUGHES REENTERS GAME OF POLITICS WITH ZEST

Resurrected From Supreme Bench, Republican Candidate Returns to Arena With Apparent Delight.

New York, June 12.—Charles E. Hughes reentered politics today, apparently with abundant zest. He reached New York early in the day, established temporary headquarters at an uptown hotel and virtually held open house until nearly midnight. Scores of persons on various missions flocked to his rooms, mostly men who had known him in the days when he was campaigning for governor of New York. There also were several party leaders among his callers.

Mr. Hughes issued no statement today and expects to issue none until he is formally notified of his nomination. The subcommittee to confer with him as to fixing a date for the ceremony probably will wait on him in a few days and until then, it is understood, he will allow his telegram to Chairman Harding of the Republican national convention to stand as his declaration of principles.

Although the nominee's plans still are undetermined as to virtually all the details of the campaign, it is likely that he will remain in New York until June 20, when he expects to attend a reunion of the class of '81 of Brown university at Providence, R. I. He probably will remain there for the commencement exercises the next day. By that time it is believed his plans, so far as they concern his summer residence and the chief details of his campaign, will have assumed a more settled status.

Has Changed Wonderfully.

To those who knew the nominee as a supreme court justice, there was a marked change in his bearing today. His air of studious reserve apparently left him with the robes of his office. His eye sparkled with enjoyment, he had a hearty hand grasp and a smile for every man he met, and seemed enthusiastic in his welcome of old friends who came to see him.

They came in crowds. One man, an old schoolmate "who used to call him Charley," dropped in after an absence of nearly 40 years. Another who said he had not seen him for 15 years waited an hour in his anteroom to remind the nominee of the days when he taught a Bible class in the Fifth Avenue Baptist church here, of which the caller was a member; "the class," he said, "that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., taught afterward."

Robert Fuller, who was his secretary when Hughes was governor, spent the afternoon helping him receive callers; and Maj. Crossett, who was his military aide in 1910, stationed himself at the door of the inner office. Through the door there marched a steady line of visitors. Among these who called were Henry W. Taft, State Chairman of the New York, George W. Wickersham, who quickly denied a report that he had been to Oyster Bay to enlist Roosevelt's aid in the campaign; Herbert Parson, national committeeman from New York; Samuel Fenig, New York Republican leader; William A. Day, president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, and S. S. McClure.

Some Food for Thought.

Although felicitations were numerous there also was serious consideration of campaign plans. The chief affairs requiring the nominee's immediate attention are the selection of headquarters and deciding on a summer headquarters for himself. Several party leaders submitted suggestions on all three subjects, all of which took under consideration.

The nominee had nothing to say as to whether he had received a communication from Oyster Bay.

Party leaders seemed to agree that the campaign would be started early. Mr. Parsons said that in his opinion the campaign already was on. "It started Saturday," he said, "when Mr. Hughes sent his telegram to Chairman Harding."

The campaign in New York city is to be opened this week, Mr. Koenig said.

How the Progressives will vote; whether Col. Roosevelt will support Mr. Hughes; whether the colonel will take the stump for him; to what extent failure of the Progressive to support Hughes would affect the election—these and kindred topics were the subject of much speculation on the part of Republican leaders.

"ON LEAVE FROM HELL"

Man Home From Verdun Describes Horrors of Great Battle.

New York World.

"I have just left Verdun, but I feel as if I had obtained a leave of absence from hell," was the statement made today by William H. C. Walker of Bingham, Mass. Walker has been in France for a year, serving as an ambulance driver for the American ambulance hospital.

"What I saw is almost indescribable," he said. "The nearest hospital was 50 miles from the front. We would approach the firing line in our ambulances and wait there during artillery bombardments, which lasted for days. You can imagine what that meant—one continuous roar of shells.

"Then the bombardments would suddenly stop and there would be periods of awful silence. We of the ambulance corps would say to one another, 'Is this war, or what it is?' During the periods of terrible silence we would be sent out to gather up the wounded, of whom there were hundreds.

"The losses at Verdun are almost inconceivable. Of regiments sent to the front there would be only handfuls of survivors. I expect to go back, but when my leave of absence has expired I will feel as if I were returning to the infernal regions."

A MERCILESS JUDGE

One Who Shows No Favor.

A merciless judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and the wanting go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Newberry resident has withstood this sternest of all test.

David A. Rivers, ice dealer, Route No. 5, 44 Mill House, Newberry, says: "My kidneys were out of order and the kidney secretions were unnatural and contained sediment. My back ached and I had severe pains across my sides. I finally began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and they made me feel much better in every way."

(Statement given March 21, 1911.)

A Lasting Cure.

On November 20, 1914, Mr. Rivers said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills brought me has been permanent."

Declares He is for the Undiluted Brand.

New York, June 13.—Charles E. Hughes today defined his attitude toward German-American support as one of "undiluted Americanism." In the first statement issued since his acceptance of the Republican nomination for president he said:

"I stated my position very clearly in my telegram to the convention. My attitude is one of undiluted Americanism and anybody that supports me is supporting an out and out American and an out and out American policy, absolutely nothing else."
